Handwritten musical score on aged paper, featuring multiple staves with notes and lyrics. The text is faint and mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and bar lines. The lyrics are written in a cursive script below the staves.

Handwritten musical score on ten staves. The notation is in a historical style, featuring various note values (minims, crotchets, quavers) and rests. The ink is faded and the paper is aged. The score appears to be a single melodic line, possibly for a lute or a single voice part. The handwriting is in a cursive script, typical of 17th or 18th-century manuscript notation. The staves are numbered 1 through 10 on the right margin. The first staff begins with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. The notation includes many beamed notes, suggesting a fast or rhythmic passage. The final staff is empty, indicating the end of the piece or a section.

Handwritten musical score on ten staves. The notation is dense and appears to be a form of shorthand or early musical notation, possibly for a keyboard instrument. The staves are numbered 1 through 10. The handwriting is in dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. The notation consists of vertical stems and horizontal lines, with some additional markings that could be notes or rests. The overall appearance is that of a historical manuscript or a personal study score.
